HANDS OFF TOWN PARK!

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

FURIOUS residents have blasted plans to concrete over part of Harlow Town Park to provide new parking spaces for visitors.

Harlow Council is currently considering proposals to transform a chunk of parkland near the existing pedestrian entrance off Howard Way into a car park for around 25 vehicles.

It claims the move will make the park more accessible, but residents living in nearby Altham Grove have criticised the plans as "counter-productive" and argue that existing parking facilities at School Lane are more than adequate for visitors.

Local teacher Tim Clark said he and fellow residents would fight the plans. "No-one living here wants to see this popular green space, the only flat field in the entire park, swallowed up to make way for a car park," he told the Star.

"Aside from road safety concerns and the inevitable increase in noise and pollution, people in Altham Grove see this part of the park as their village green. To lose it is unthinkable.

"If the council pushes ahead with plans to concrete it over, we'll roll out the battlebus and fight tooth and nail to protect it. There's already a large car park on School Lane that's very rarely full. Enough of the town's green spaces have already been eaten up; the line needs to be drawn somewhere."

Another resident, who wished to remain anonymous, said there were other sites better suited to the council's

The only way is Wessex in a Royal 'first' for hospice

THE Countess of Wessex became the first member of the Royal Family to visit St Clare Hospice at Hastingwood yesterday afternoon (Wednesday).

Her Royal Highness, the wife of Prince Edward, was welcomed by the Lord Lieutenant of Essex Lord Petre before being introduced to hospice representatives, local dignitaries and Harlow MP Robert Halfon.

The Countess was then taken on a tour of the facility including the day therapy and inpatient units during which she chatted to staff, volunteers, patients and their families.

Hospice chairman Michael Chapman said: "This year is the 21st anniversary for the hospice which is a fantastic achievement for all of us and we are extremely grateful to the Countess of Wessex for visiting us in this very special year."

National leader role for Passmores head

A HARLOW secondary school has been given a key support role to help boost the standards of education in the area.

Passmores School and Technology College has been designated a national support school and its headmaster, Vic Goddard, appointed a national leader of education.

Mr Goddard is one of only 100 headteachers in the country to have been selected for the role by the National College for School Leadership.

According to the NCSL, national leaders are outstanding headteachers or principals who, together with the staff in their schools, use their skills and experience to support schools in challenging circumstances.

In addition to leading their own schools, NLEs work to increase the leadership capacity of other schools.

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsexnews.co.uk

The role could see Mr Goddard step in as acting or executive headteacher of any 'client' school deemed to require extra support.

"It is a great testament to the hard work of the staff at Passmores over a prolonged period that we have been selected, as one of a tiny percentage of schools to offer support to young people and teachers at other establishments," he said this week.

"It will mean that we will be able to retain our current staff by offering them a chance to develop and grow through helping others and learning new things themselves on the way."

He added: "We will also be able to recruit new high-quality staff to develop into our own future leader, and will continue to be held to account for the improvements in our own school directly by the Department for Education, and also for the improvements in the schools that we are asked to support."

Toby Salt, deputy chief executive of the NCSL, said the scheme was set up to provide practical help and support to struggling schools, describing it as "the best helping the rest".

He added: "It's great that heads like Vic are becoming NLEs, looking beyond their own school gates to help more and more pupils get the best start in life."

"School-to-school support is having a growing impact across the education system and this is thanks to the hard work and dedication of all those involved."

"Helping other school leaders in this way is admirable and something I'd encourage other heads to consider."

Anger over Town Park parking plan

plans. "What about the authority's own vacant Marshgate depot, the empty garages near Altham Grove or the unused MFI store car park backing on to the adventure playground?"

"Surely the council can see that by shrinking the park to provide parking for more visitors defeats the object. They effectively want to take away the park in order for people to visit it!"

The council, which owns the land, would not need planning permission to start work on the site as the plans form part of an agreement signed with housebuilder Croudace after the developer was granted permission to build on the former swimming pool site on First Avenue.

As part of the deal, the firm has agreed to provide up to 65 new public parking spaces for town park users at three locations - 20 on the site of its new residential development, 20 at Fifth Avenue and 25 on the disputed site off Howard Way.

Councillor Tony Hall, portfolio holder for the environment, told the Star: "These proposals are not about eating into park land but about opening the park up to make it more accessible. A fair amount of unofficial parking goes on already around the park so we are only making proper arrangements to manage an existing issue."

However, he hinted the authority could still reconsider its plans for the Howard Way site.

"I'm pleased that residents are putting forward their views on these proposals," he said. "Marshgate Farm is being sold by the council and the MFI car park is privately owned so neither of these are realistic options, but we're happy to look at the vacant garage area at Altham Grove as a possible site."

Bus company to divert number 6 service after passenger complaints

THE bus operator planning to overhaul the route of a popular service linking the town centre with Old Harlow has moved to reassure elderly and disabled passengers they will not be left stranded by the changes.

As reported in last week's Star, Arriva is about to re-route its number 8 service along First Avenue, meaning passengers living in Maddox Road, Long Ley, Momples Road and Ladyshot will no longer be able to catch the bus on their street.

Arriva failed to respond to requests for a comment by the time the Star went to press but this week Bob Dorr, regional director for Network Harlow, said Arriva's existing number 6 service which runs between Potter Street and Princess Alexandra Hospital will now be diverted along Maddox Road to ensure former number 8 users still have a direct route into the town centre.

"Obviously there will still be no direct route to Old Harlow serving the Maddox Road area, but as there were very few passengers making that journey it shouldn't cause too much of a problem," he said.

"The re-routing of the number 6, which currently runs from Potter Street and up Howard Way, will mean that those living near Maddox Road will still be able to get into town without having to change buses."

Paddle pals prepare for canoe fundraiser

CHARITY CHALLENGE: Mike White, right, with his son Robert and Roger Craven (s)By VICKY LANEvicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.ukHARLOW Council legal advisor Mike White will soon be swapping his books for a paddle to support his son's battle against leukemia.

Mike (53) is preparing to spend two days canoeing 55km down the River Stour to raise money for the charity Leukaemia and Lymphoma Research after his 22-year-old son Robert was diagnosed with chronic myeloid leukaemia in March.

Robert, who was told he had the condition just 10 days after getting engaged to his partner of five years, also has the support of his future father-in-law Roger Craven (65), who will be joining Mike on the river challenge.

"Although Robert is only a few short months into his treatment things are progressing as well as could be hoped, but everyone knows this will be a long journey," said Mike.

"It was such a huge blow to us all but Robert and his fiancée, Lauren, have reacted so bravely to the news and treatment that we decided we must do something to help raise money for research into better treatments for blood cancer.

"So we decided to organise a canoe trip which we are calling Two Old Men in a Canoe to help raise as much as possible."

The pair, who both canoe recreationally, are tackling the challenge on June 18. Starting from Clare in Suffolk, they will canoe along the River Stour between Essex and Suffolk, finishing back in Suffolk at their hometown of Mistley.

"We expect it will take about 20 hours over the two days but hope to have some fun on the trip as well as just paddling hard," said Mike.

"I cannot overstate the amount of support we have received from everybody for both this fundraiser and Robert's treatment over these tough months. It has been quite incredible and I thank everyone for that."

Anyone who would like to sponsor Mike and Roger can do so by visiting their fundraising page at www.justgiving.com/two-old-men-in-a-canoe. Robert has requested that any donations are made to the Leukaemia and Lymphoma Research charity directly through the page.For further information, contact Mike at mikewhite1809@btinternet.com.

Support group's day for carers

AN information day for carers is being held at Harlow Library on Tuesday as part of National Carers' Week.

It takes place from 10am-2.30pm. A member of the pension service will also be on hand to answer any queries from 10-11am.

Carers support worker Isobel Atkinson said: "Anyone who cares for a family member or friend is invited to call into the library where they will be able to find out about the support services offered by Caring for Harlow Carers."

"These include support groups, social events, home visits and respite clubs and are available for both adult and young carers."

Simple steps to avoid arthritis

A LOCAL podiatrist is helping to keep Harlow feet healthy by raising awareness about the signs of arthritis.

As part of this month's national Feet for Life campaign, Meeta Patel - who works at Harlow Leisurezone - is offering advice on preventative steps to reduce chances of developing the joint disorder.

"There are many things you can do to help prevent arthritis," she said.

"Maintaining a healthy weight and keeping active through low impact sports, as well as choosing supportive footwear to reduce pressure on the joints, can all help to prevent the condition in later life."

"The key to treatment is early detection, so if you do experience pain or swelling and stiffness in your joints, see a podiatrist or health professional for advice."

As part of Feet for Life Month, Meeta has a special offer throughout June on all appointments. For more details call (01279) 279741.

Lottery results

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the weekly St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, June 3 is ticket holder 727792, who lives in Harlow.

The second prize of £100 goes to the holder of ticket number 628983, who also lives in Harlow.

Firefighters target students to drive home a safety message

HARLOW firefighters are stepping up their efforts to help young motorists understand the consequences of careless driving.

Members of Blue Watch at the town's fire station in Fourth Avenue have already worked with students from Harlow College and Stewards School, but are hoping all schools in the area will embrace the Live for Y.E.A.R.S (Year Eleven Awareness of Road Safety) initiative.

Organiser Julian Williams explained: "In Essex during 2009 there were 811 people killed or seriously injured in road traffic collisions and a large number of these were in the age range of 17-25."

"After liaising with other local agencies it became apparent that Year 11 students are a key target, so we decided that by speaking to young people just before they learn to drive will allow them to use what they have learnt from us for the future to become safe drivers."

During the Live for Y.E.A.R.S workshops, firefighters give students an hour-long presentation highlighting the dangers of speeding and driving while under the influence of alcohol and drugs.

They are then shown the possible consequences of careless driving, including the devastating after effects road accidents can have on friends and family members.

Julian added: "I am looking for all the schools in Harlow to embrace this campaign so we are able to ultimately reduce the number of young drivers being killed or seriously injured in road traffic collisions in this area"

For more information about the campaign, contact Julian at julian.williams@essex-fire.gov.uk.

Exhibition aims to give businesses a boost

LOCAL companies looking to promote their services and budding entrepreneurs keen to forge new contacts are being advised to visit next week's Harlow Business Exhibition.

Following the success of the town's first dedicated business event last year, the organisers of Tuesday's gathering are confident it will be even bigger with extra trade stands and a series of seminars running throughout the day.

The exhibition is the brainchild of Harlow & District Chamber of Commerce vice-chairman Ian Hudson, Dave Smith of website thebestofharlow, NatWest business manager Khaled Khan and Mick Granger of The Blue Group.

"We have more than 80 companies booked in for the business stands this year and anticipate over 500 people to attend," said Mr Granger.

"After the success of last year's exhibition we know that this year will be even better and hope that as many people as possible will come down to see how it can benefit them.

"It is a completely free event which is ultimately about putting Harlow on the map and strengthening the local economy for future generations to come."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who has been invited to open the exhibition, described it as one of the most important days of the year for businesses in the area.

"Small businesses in the area are thriving right now and I only hope that we have many more events of this kind to encourage continued business investment in the area."

Louise Oliver of exhibition promoters SR Events added: "There is nothing else like this in Harlow so it really is an invaluable opportunity for any local business people to meet others, network and hopefully pick up some new clients."

Entry to the exhibition, which runs from 10am-5pm at Harlow Stadium in Roydon Road, is free. Anyone interested in attending can register on the event website at www.harlowbusinessexhibition.co.uk or sign up on the day.

There will also be a car valeting service, funky casino and raffle in aid of Harlow Fields School and College.

AN outraged grandfather has spoken of his disgust after finding bin bags full of dog excrement dumped on a footpath near a children's play area.

Mick Neale (69), of Little Brays, Harlow, has been forced to clear up the waste on at least four occasions, fearing they may be a health hazard to his two-year-old grandchild and other youngsters playing in the Stile Croft playground.

Mr Neale, who has lived in the area for almost 40 years, is now urging residents to be vigilant to help catch the culprits.

"I'm sick to the back teeth with clearing up these bags and phoning up the council to report it," he told the Star. "On several occasions they have been ripped open, leaving excrement all over the place. It is absolutely vile.

"I keep sorting them out because no-one else seems to and if I ignore it then more bin bags appear. They stink to high heaven."

He added: "Someone is dumping these bags there overnight without a thought to their neighbours or the young children that play near the area. They are disgusting and I hope with everyone's help they will soon be caught."

Joel Charles, Harlow Council's portfolio holder for community and citizenship, described the dumping as "inexcusable".

"Bags of dog mess left lying around are not only disgusting and unhealthy but also constitute flytipping," he said.

"Our community rangers and enforcement officers will be patrolling the area and residents can also help us find those responsible by reporting eyewitness information to Contact Harlow."

The council has also issued a reminder to dog owners that it is illegal to collect waste at home and then place it near bins.

"These bins are provided for the use of dog walkers to dispose of mess made by their pet in open public spaces," said a spokesman. "This practice also constitutes flytipping."

Golfers put cash to good use

GOLFERS have clubbed together and chipped in almost £1,000 for new equipment at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Chinese Golf Society members Kim Man and Alan Wong presented a cheque for £996 to staff in the hospital's emergency department earlier this week.

A hospital spokeswoman said the money will be used to purchase much-needed new wheelchairs for the department.

"We are so grateful for this gift," she said. "The support we have been given by the Chinese Golf Society is invaluable, not just today but over past years."

HIDDEN away behind the towering hedgerows on the corner of Paringdon Road and Southern Way, Paringdon Sports Club has been billed as a one-stop-shop for fitness fanatics. But can it seriously compete with Harlow's multi-million pound Leisurezone? News Editor CHRIS MOSS squeezed into his spandex bodysuit for a tour of the impressive facilities ahead of its official opening earlier this week.

WHEN GlaxoSmithKline announced it was to close part of its New Frontiers Science Park site in Harlow last year, few people could have envisaged anything positive emerging from the decision.

But now a lesser-known outpost of the pharmaceutical giant's empire has been given a new lease of life.

Discreetly tucked away behind towering hedgerows on the corner of Paringdon Road and Southern Way, GSK's former staff-only sports and social club has now been refurbished and relaunched as Paringdon Sports Club. And this time anyone can become a member.

"Most people won't have even realised this place was here," said new co-owner Troy Mead, who with business partner Dave Hancock has helped to rescue the mothballed sports club and open it up to the general public for the first time in its history.

"It's always been a strictly staff-only establishment," said Troy. "Even before GSK took it on, BP used to run it as a private club. But when we had a look around and saw the quality of the facilities on offer, it was a no-brainer, really – we had to open it up to the public."

With four indoor squash courts, two tennis courts, a cavernous sports hall, well-equipped gym, dance studio, saunas, snooker room and an all-weather playing surface, the club's facilities are certainly impressive. But can it really compete with Harlow's state-of-the-art Leisurezone?

"We might not have a swimming pool or all the bells and whistles of Leisurezone, but we do have this," said Troy as he throws open the double doors of the football changing rooms (there are home, away and even referee facilities) to reveal a lush green sea of 17 acres of immaculately-tended playing fields.

"There are four full-size football pitches out there, as well as two mini-soccer pitches and an all-weather surface. When you combine that with the other facilities we've got here, it really is a one-stop shop for all your fitness needs."

"Best of all, when you become a member you've got access to it all. There are no hidden charges for squash court hire or fitness classes as it's all included. We like to think of it as being much more than just a gym; it's a lifestyle."

Lifestyle is the buzzword for Troy and his team, who are hard at work putting the finishing touches to two new bars during my visit. As well as catering for social events, it will be here that footballers, gym users, tennis players, squash enthusiasts and Salsa dancers will relax and unwind after a hard session's training.

"The bars will add an extra social dimension to the club," said Troy. "What could be better than finishing up your five-a-side game on the astro turf and then being able to stroll across to the bar to enjoy a post-match pint and a game of pool with your mates?"

"We've got so many strings to our bow. Even the car park, which has over 100 free spaces, is great for people who don't want to have to worry about getting a ticket or paying extra just to park."

"We just need to get the word out to people that we're open to the public. This place has been hidden away for far too long but hopefully it's got a bright future ahead of it now."

Police start expenses probe at County Hall

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

POLICE have launched an investigation into the expenses claimed by disgraced Tory peer Lord Hanningfield's for his work on behalf of Essex County Council.

The probe, which was started at the request of County Hall chiefs, comes less than a fortnight after the former council leader was found guilty of fiddling his Parliamentary expenses.

Current council leader Peter Martin, who took over the role from Lord Hanningfield, said the decision to contact police had been made after an internal audit had raised "concerns" over claims made by the peer during his time as head of the authority.

"Since I became leader in February 2010 I have worked very closely with the chief executive and senior officers to enhance our governance processes," said Mr Martin.

"Our own rigorous internal audit revealed concerns over Lord Hanningfield's expenses while he was leader of this council and we have taken a robust approach to dealing with their findings.

"In consultation with the chief executive we have asked Essex Police to investigate the matter."

He confirmed that Lord Hanningfield, who remains a county councillor until he is sentenced later this month, had now been excluded from the ruling Conservative group at County Hall.

An Essex Police spokesman this week confirmed the Kent and Essex serious economic crime unit was investigating expenses claims at the county council but declined to specify which ones had triggered the inquiry.

Lord Hanningfield (70), a former Lords opposition frontbencher, was found guilty of six charges of false accounting at Chelmsford Crown Court on May 26. He denied all the charges against him.

The jury found that he had unlawfully claimed £13,379 for overnight stays in London when he was not in the capital, as well as £382 in train fares and £147 in mileage by doubling the seven-mile distance from his home in West Hanningfield, near Chelmsford, to the railway station.

He is due to return to court later this month for sentence.

Fire station's fun day is a help to disabled

HARLOW firefighters did their bit to tackle ignorance about disability by holding an awareness day which drew a crowd of hundreds of people on Saturday.

The free event organised by White Watch at the town's fire station featured a full programme of activities, including live music, paralympic demonstrations and a wheelchair basketball match.

Representatives from local disability groups were also present to encourage more integration between the disabled and non-disabled.

Community commander Mark Samuels said the day had been a huge success.

"As well as a brilliant turn out from the public we also had every disability group in Harlow present which not only helped to bring more awareness about what they do, but also gave them the opportunity to network with each other."

He added: "I would like to extend my thanks to everyone who came along and also to sub-officer James Taylor for his hard work putting this all together."

Teenage boy attacked and robbed by hooded mugger

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a teenage boy was attacked and robbed in the middle of the day.

The incident occurred at 12.45pm on Thursday as the victim was walking along Tending Road in the vicinity of Passmore School.

He was approached by his assailant who pushed him to the ground, stabbed his left shoulder with a shard of glass and stole a black nylon Nike shoulder bag.

The suspect is described as 6ft tall, white and wearing a grey tracksuit with the words

The attacker had a hood pulled over his face and was carrying a black Adidas bag over his left shoulder and in front of his body.

Investigating officer PC Michael Orr said: "This robbery occurred in broad daylight. I urge anyone who may have information regarding this incident to contact me."

Anyone who can help with the investigation should contact PC Orr at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444.

Compassion, not abuse

SIR, I was deeply disturbed to read a recent letter in the Star about a resident who was abused because they were apparently overweight (Letters, May 19).

Everyone knows that there is a problem with obesity in Harlow, and I myself have had to go on frequent diets over the years because of my walking problems.

I recently spoke in a debate in the House of Commons about obesity and education. I recommended that local Harlow sporting groups like Harlow Athletics Club, Harlow Gymnastics Club and the Kickz football club should play a major role in the Big Society and get more funding because they are better at educating and looking at obesity problems than any national Government programme.

At the moment one in five young people in Harlow have problems with obesity. This is one of the highest rates in Essex. This must be dealt with compassionately rather than through ignorant mockery and abuse.

I would like to invite the resident who was abused to the House of Commons for a cup of tea to discuss these issues and to see how we can stop this behaviour once and for all.

Robert Halfon MP
House of Commons

Young high-achievers

SIR, I was deeply concerned to read the Prince's Trust's recent assessment of aspiration among young people in Harlow (Star, May 26).

Whilst we all recognise the outstanding work the Prince's Trust does for young people, I think we have to be mindful of the positive message that should be sent to youngsters to help them reach their full potential.

For the Prince's Trust to say that we run the risk of a "youth underclass" here means there is an issue which demands local authorities and Government reaction. However, it is not all bad news here in Harlow.

Two weeks ago I attended the Civic Centre to present awards in a council chamber packed full of high-achieving young people. Many had won the Duke of Edinburgh Award and a Jack Petchey medal and certificate for an

Is bus company right to change route of its number 8 service?

FOR

SIR, As someone who lives on the number 8 bus route, I feel I must say that I fully support the re-routing of this service (Star, June 2).

With all the double parking in Momples Road, Maddox Road and Minchen Road – which are narrow roads anyway – I have often seen drivers struggling to squeeze their buses through the narrowest of gaps. Sometimes they are not able to proceed at all.

Not every service can be subsidised by Essex County Council so Arriva/Network Harlow must be free to make commercial business decisions, as does any other bus operator. If the service along the current route is not making a profit, then surely it must be changed.

Both Long Ley and Vicarage Wood are only a few yards away from Howard

OAPs upset over bus route change

Way, along which the number 6 service runs. If I am ever in the unfortunate position where I cannot walk for more than a few yards, I will apply for a motability scooter.

Furthermore, the noise of buses running along residential streets until midnight keeps many people awake which is an inconvenience to those who work.

We often hear the views of pensioners through the pages of your newspaper. May I ask that on this issue the views of a younger person are heard?

P. Wood
Blackbush Spring, Harlow

AGAINST

SIR, I was concerned to read that Arriva had decided to redirect the number 8 bus service from its present route of Old Harlow to the town centre.

At present this service runs through well established housing areas but is to be diverted to First Avenue for which, to the best of my knowledge, there are already at least two bus services.

Does this mean then that eventually the number 8 will be cut out completely? This would isolate the elderly and mothers with young children who do not have access to alternative transport.

The reason given was reported as "low passenger numbers" but have the powers-that-be actually travelled on the service? Whenever I have travelled on it the buses have been very full, often with many people standing.

Recently I was on the bus when the driver had to leave passengers standing at the bus stops because the bus was too full to accommodate them, although this could have been due to the fact that Arriva had cut out at least one bus. Have the powers-that-be stood at the bus station during the day and watched the large number of people trying to get onto the bus?

I suspect that rather than the economics of running this current route, the reason is the great difficulty the bus drivers have in following that route due to the parking problems caused by a large number of cars, some even being parked on pavements.

Please Arriva, reconsider this decision and take into consideration the needs of the passengers who are reliant on a regular service such as this to move about Harlow.

Michael Caswell

outstanding contribution to the community. Many young people in our town go on to succeed. We have top class athletic stars and many high achieving university graduates.

I agree with our MP Robert Halfon that apprenticeship schemes are one of many solutions to inspire young people to aim higher. It is true that youth unemployment is unacceptably high and I support the Government's plan to help young people with the introduction of the new single Work Programme which offers young people targeted, personalised help.

It is true to say that Harlow has had a historical problem with young people not in education, employment or training. But because of the renewed emphasis by the Government to tackle this problem, I am confident that aspiration will increase among Harlow young people.

Councillor Joel Charles
Cabinet member for Community & Citizenship
Jocelyns, Old Harlow

Ignorance is no defence

SIR, Like most, I am delighted with the outcome of the trial of Lord Hanningfield (Star, June 2). But when the sheer scale of the expenses fiddle that was endemic in Parliament and now allegedly the Lords too is considered, I wonder why so few have been prosecuted and why no more are in the pipeline.

The last and the incumbent Prime Minister, along with others, paid back a tiny fraction of the total paid for a variety of wrongful claims made. Were they no less guilty of fraud?

The last I heard, ignorance of the rules (which seemed to be a popular excuse) and the law is no defence. But maybe they said they were sorry, so that's OK then.

Is the fanciful claim made by the disgraced peer in open court to the effect that everyone in the Lords is on the 'hi diddle diddle' to be ignored?

It is encouraging to read that police are to investigate allegations made of fraudulent claims at Essex County Council. Hopefully, should they be proven to be true and where there is evidence of such involvement, all those regardless of their position should face prosecution.

Mike Audritt
Hobbs Cross Road, Harlow

Putting pupils first

SIR, I agree with Harlow Against the Cuts in its opposition to the town's secondary schools moving to Academy status.

Headteachers and governors are being misled into believing there is no alternative and that converting quickly is the only option available. But before schools move towards an irreversible decision, surely the widest possible consultation should be undertaken?

As a local councillor I have been given minimal information over the proposals. I was not made aware of Passmore's decision to convert until December last year, a full five months after the decision had been made and only because I sat on the Scrutiny Committee which was reviewing the Academies Act.

Last week St Marks announced to staff its decision to become an Academy which, if agreed, will go ahead in September this year. That's only seven school weeks away. One letter home to parents is not a full consultation; all members of the community deserve the opportunity to have their say on the future of education delivery in their local area.

The benefit of an increased budget will be offset by the fact that schools will have to pay for services such as governor and employment support, school improvement, health and safety, legal advice, financial service and SEN provision. Local authorities will be free to charge extra for schools buying into this expertise. Furthermore, by opting out of local education authority control, Academies will have little accountability to the local community.

Last summer a poll for IPOS MORI found that 96 per cent of parents want a good local school run by local authorities. Teachers in all major professional organisations are against Academies.

The long-term consequences of Academy schools have not been fully explored and short-termism seems to prevail.

In all of these discussions the most important consideration must be the impact on the education of young people in the town. In the rush to become an Academy, this vital factor seems to have been overlooked.

Councillor Rod Truan
High Street, Old Harlow

Much happier horse

SIR, Two weeks ago I wrote of my concerns for the welfare of horses placed on land around the town (Letters, May 26).

I described one in particular as looking like it had lost the will to live, having been on a short leash for long periods and without the company of other horses.

I passed this horse on Sunday morning and was pleasantly surprised to see it had the close company of another horse for the first time in many months and looked so much more relaxed and at ease with itself. Also, it's leash is about 20ft long.

If this is the council taking note that some people care about this issue, be assured it has not gone unnoticed. Having not checked on other horses around the town, I can at least say what I've seen so far is a good start. If the council have not already done so, may I suggest they turn their attention to the welfare of horses on Latton Common.

Forum was a farce

SIR, Councillor Joel Charles says local councillors need to talk to people all year round and not just at election times (Letters, May 26). Well speak for yourself Joel.

As the many people whose doors we knocked on in the freezing weather last winter well know, Labour councillors assisted by party members do just that.

He then says that is why the Conservative administration has introduced neighbourhood forums. I attended one at The Stow. Five councillors were there, as were several council officers and representatives of the police but only five residents.

A council officer said a lot of effort had gone into publicising the meeting! The whole thing was a total waste of taxpayers' money.

If people want to talk to their Labour councillors they can visit one of our ward surgeries at no cost to the taxpayer.

Councillor Edna Stevens
Fullers Mead, Harlow

Funeral flowers

SIR, I am writing to express my views about the way Harlow Council dispose of floral tributes at the crematorium.

We attend our parents grave regularly and I am disgusted that so many beautiful flowers are being destroyed only a couple of days after a funeral. When a funeral has taken place on a Friday the flowers are thrown into the skip the following Monday. This is not only disheartening but very disrespectful.

This has happened to our own family and when I asked a council worker why they were in the skip so soon the reply I received was they were all dead anyway. This was definitely not the case.

I went to the crematorium last Sunday and saw some beautiful floral tributes that had been placed there on Friday. On Monday these same flowers were dumped into the skip.

This is happening every week and obviously needs urgent attention to prevent this from happening any further. We realise they have to be removed after a reasonable length of time but surely a rotation system would be much kinder.

I would be interested to hear other people's views on this matter and, in particular, Harlow Council's.

Join us for fun all the way on Midnight Walk

IN just over a week more than 1,000 people will be taking a Midnight Walk through Harlow to raise vital funds for St Clare Hospice – and there is just enough time for you to join them.

The deadline for entries to this year's Star-backed, fun-packed 10km fundraiser is midnight on (Sunday) so if you haven't signed up yet you need to do so now.

All you have to do is visit the website at www.stclarehospice.co.uk, call the fund-raising team on (01279) 773750 or send an email to fund@stclarehospice.co.uk. Then sit back and prepare for a night you will never forget.

This year's walk takes place next Saturday (June 18), starting from outside ASDA in the Water Gardens at exactly 10.30pm.

Signing in starts from 8.30pm (please note, you cannot register to take part on the night) and there will be plenty of entertainment leading up to the start of the walk, including belly dancing, face-painting and a fun Zumba warm-up. In addition, Nando's will be offering 10 per cent off to all registered walkers.

One of those who will be walking is Laura Petchey, pictured front, who recently started working as part of the hospice's fundraising team.

"I have taken part in the Midnight Walk in previous years but this will be my first one whilst working for St Clare Hospice," she said this week.

"It has been great seeing behind the scenes and how much work goes into organising the walk and I cannot wait to see it all come together on the night. So many pink items have been appearing in the office this week, including a new-style pink goody bag and the all important flashing bunny ears.

"The night itself is always great fun and carries a brilliant atmosphere, especially if you are with a large group of friends. Working for the hospice has given me a great insight to just how important these events are in raising much-needed funds."

By taking part you will be helping to make a difference to the lives of patients and their families in the local community.

It costs the hospice £2.6m to run each year yet just a quarter of this is funded by the NHS, leaving St Clare to raise a staggering £5,000 each day to carry on providing their care and support.

The Midnight Walk raises around £100,000 each year towards the special nursing and therapy this hospice is able to offer. This is a significant percentage of its annual fundraising target which is why the success of the Midnight Walk is so important.

So please follow in the footsteps of Laura and the hundreds of others who have already signed up and pick up the phone or go online to register today. Registration costs just £15 which includes a special pink T-shirt and goody bag.

Putting names to the faces of JM workforce

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

WHEN we published a picture of a group of foundry workers from Harlow-based precious metals company Johnson Matthey, many readers were amazed to spot some familiar faces in the line-up.

The photo was sent in by former Primrose Field resident Alex James (81) who salvaged it from paperwork when the site was closed in the 1990s.

"It was such a shock to see them there," she said. "We lived next door to Jim in Carters Mead as all the Johnson Matthey workers were given houses when they first came to Harlow and our families got very close."

"Sadly my father passed away almost 15 years ago and Jim soon after, so it was so lovely to see them both in the paper."

Jim's granddaughter Charisse Leijis also got in touch. "Grandad would have been delighted to have seen this picture, as we all were," she said.

"Speaking to all the family Jim's children have great memories of Johnson Matthey giving big children's Christmas parties, dinners, dances and trips to Wembley by coach."

"Grandad worked in the foundry on shift work until he retired around 1985."

Dave Hollyoake (57), of Longbanks, recognised some of the people in the picture after working at the company "in the hot summer of 1976".

"It was a very dirty and dangerous job because we were working with poisonous fumes, but we had great times," he added. "I was there for about four years, starting when I was 20."

Rose Bristow spotted her late husband, Arthur Bristow, who would have been 76 this year.

"We moved to Harlow in 1961 and I can remember we used to go to the dances and had some good times," she wrote.

"Unfortunately Arthur got burns on his back when a furnace blew and became unwell for a while, passing away in 1988 aged only 53."

"I still get a Christmas hamper from the firm though and I still live in the same house they gave us 49 years ago."

DO YOU REMEMBER? The Lord Hurcomise

DID you ever take a ride on the Lord Hurcomise locomotive in the 1950s?

If you did then you may know how the steam engine got its name or how regularly it travelled through the area.

Regular Nostalgia contributor Ron Bill, who brought in the picture after finding it buried in his collection, has the photo dated 1953 and says the train is at the former Burnt Mill Station.

"The photo was taken by a man called Mr Perry, who was the signalman at the station at the time," he said. "Otherwise I don't know where it got its name from though would guess it was named after someone."

"They used to have little naming ceremonies for new locomotives, like when a ship was launched."

Can you answer any of the questions about the Lord Hurcomise locomotive or do you remember travelling on it? Send your memories to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

25 years ago

Harlow MP Jerry Hayes is calling for an inquiry into the responsibilities of travel companies following a "nightmare" holiday. Mr Hayes' catalogue of chaos included finding the cot for his daughter left outside because it didn't fit in the room, discovering that his mattress was covered in excrement and being told that all the children's services advertised had been postponed due to a lack of staff.

Harlow Council's rock contest final may be moved to The Square following January's clash between bouncers and fans at the Odeon. Stewards tried to stop enthusiastic fans from dancing in the aisles because of fire regulations. Council officers are now recommending the competition should be switched to the smaller venue which allows dancing.

Vandals have been sabotaging the efforts of young people to improve Harlow's picturesque Lutton Woods. The spoilsports have torn down bridges and stolen tools from the locked hut, dampening the spirits of the team of 22 community programme workers based there. A spokesman said the workers had been on the site since last November and were very disheartened to have their work destroyed.

▲ GATEWAY NURSERY Children, parents and family members enjoyed some tasty treats at the Perry Road nursery's big family picnic. As part of National Family Week, the children were allowed to take along their relatives for a host of family-themed activities during the half-term break, including creating family trees and writing stories. Staff then laid on a special party tea of sandwiches, sausages, cakes and other treats to round off their week-long celebrations. Nursery owner Emma Pike said: "We had a lovely week and it was really nice to meet all of the children's relatives. They enjoyed showing off their nursery to the family. "It was also great for everyone to see where the children go every day and what a nice, happy environment we have here at the nursery."

▲ PEAR TREE MEAD The hard work of pupils paid off when the school was presented with a silver Eco Award.

As part of a week dedicated to the environment, staff and pupils planted flowers, cleared the pond, attended to their allotment and transformed outdoor areas to make the school a greener place.

They were also taught about the changes they can each make in their lives to help save the environment.

Headteacher Chris Thurgood said: "The children absolutely loved the eco-week and all worked really hard to help transform our school.

"Being environmentally friendly is really important to us. We had already received a bronze Eco Award so to get the silver is really great."

She added: "We now hope to continue our hard work to on attain the top national green award."

▲ LITTLE ACORNS More than 100 children, parents and local dignitaries explored the Purford Green pre-school's new building during an official open day. The new premises, which took just 16 weeks to complete, encompasses a modern inside and outside learning environment with features such as underfloor heating, a private meeting room and 24-hour CCTV. Manager Lynne White said: "It has been such an exciting time for the children, staff and parents and the open day was generously attended. "I would like to thank Purford Green

Primary School for their continuous support throughout the new build and also for the local authority for funding it.

"I must also extend my thanks to Grehans builders, who were very friendly and completed the job within the set timescale."

DJ Nihal spurred on for charity challenge

HARLOW-born Radio 1 disc jockey Nihal Arthanayake is putting his fitness to the test to raise money for an orphan's charity.

Former Burnt Mill School pupil Nihal (39), a lifelong supporter of Tottenham Hotspur, is set to take part in the British 10k London Run next month in aid of SOS Children, which has worked closely with the Premier League club to shelter homeless children in Rustenburg, South Africa.

Nihal is preparing for the challenge by kickstarting a new fitness regime at Spurs' Chigwell training ground where he was put

chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk through his paces in the same type of session used by first teamers Gareth Bale and Luka Modric.

After five minutes on exercise bikes, Nihal and co-runner Kulveer Ranger – the Mayor of London's director of environment and digital London – were taken through a warm-up routine during which vital statistics including height, weight and body fat percentage were taken before the pair took part in a gruelling performance test.

Nihal said: "It was amazing to have shared the gym equipment the Spurs players themselves use."

"It was also sobering to discover that my post-club DJ-ing diet of kebabs and chicken burgers has taken its toll, leading to me having a body fat level equivalent to that of three Spurs players!"

He added: "I'm looking forward to raising a lot of money for SOS Children's Villages and I'm sure my wife will be happy with me losing my love handles in the process!"

To sponsor Nihal and Kulveer, log on to www.justgiving.com/NihalandKulveer.

A total of 27 drivers were stopped for using mobile telephones and eight for driving without seatbelts while nine vehicles were found to have mechanical faults. A further 11 offences were recorded, including three overweight vehicles which were prevented from continuing their journeys.

Seeking help in the event of redundancy

LOSING a job is difficult enough without being confronted with documents containing legal jargon and a request to sign away your rights to take the decision to a tribunal or court.

But this was the situation one local resident was faced with when his employer announced that he was to be made redundant.

He was offered the opportunity to sign a compromise agreement containing details of the financial settlement offered but was confused about whether it was a reasonable offer.

Our solicitor established what statutory and contractual employment entitlements the person had and advised him that it was a fair offer.

When there is a dispute or a potential dispute between an employer and employee, there are several ways this can be dealt with including what are known as compromise agreements.

Compromise agreements are legally binding agreements that set out the terms and conditions reached when employment is to be terminated or a dispute needs to be resolved.

Accepting the terms offered and signing an agreement means it is no longer possible to bring a claim in an employment tribunal or court. There are some exceptions to this rule but generally speaking signing a compromise agreement brings the matter to a close.

A compromise agreement is only valid if the employee has received independent legal advice from a qualified person. Most employers pay for independent advice for their employees. The first £30,000 of a payment made as compensation for loss of employment is normally tax-free.

There is no obligation to sign a compromise agreement. Some agreements are improved following negotiation. Including an agreed reference is often helpful. Confidentiality clauses are frequently included.

After considering all their options, some people decide to take their case to an employment tribunal or court.

The Employment Rights (Disputes Resolution) Act 1998 specifies that advice on compromise agreements can only be given by qualified trade union officials, advice centre workers or lawyers who hold appropriate professional indemnity insurance.

Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice employs appropriately qualified and insured staff and holds a Legal Services Commission contract to provide specialist employment advice and representation.

Floating ice cream van sets sail for the seaside

THE world's first amphibious ice cream van is now dishing out sweet treats to holidaymakers at Britain's seaside resorts and waterways.

HMS Flake 99 has a top speed of five knots and chimes out the Rod Stewart hit Sailing as it approaches!

Driver Dave Mounfield, a stand-up comedian from Brighton, has been serving up cones and lollies to shocked sunseekers during the van's maiden UK voyage.

He set off from the seaside town of Blackpool before making his way along the Thames. Following a tour of Britain's beaches, he plans to sail his craft across the English Channel and on to the canals of Venice.

Mr Mounfield told reporters: "I'm the captain of a floating ice cream van; it's crazy."

"I hope our amphibious van marks the start of a great revival of the ice cream trade on UK shores."

The floating van was built to celebrate National Ice Cream Week and the team behind the wacky stunt hope it will raise awareness of the increasing number of ice cream sellers being forced to shut up shop due to rising fuel costs and new council restrictions.

The number of ice cream vans operating across Britain has dropped from 20,000 to just 5,000 over the past 50 years, and some experts have warned the industry is in meltdown.

A growing number of councils have also started to ban vans from housing estates, parks and outside schools because of worries over noise pollution and childhood obesity.

Town now a top spot for cyclists

CYCLISTS are being encouraged to get on their bikes and take advantage of a new £800,000 initiative providing top-notch cycling facilities across Harlow.

The Cycle Harlow project, funded by Essex County Council, has delivered a new off-road cycle path along Southern Way, upgraded signage across the town, new equipment for local club Cycle Harlow and training across the community.

John Curry, vice-chairman of Cycle Harlow, described the venture as "fantastic for Harlow".

"It is just what the town needed," he said. "It's a splendid idea and we are very grateful to all the authorities for having some faith in this and providing the funding for the improvements."

The scheme has also part-funded the creation of the new Hub+Spoke cycling 'hub' based at Corner House in Bush Fair. It will open twice a week and offer services, work experience, training and volunteering opportunities.

"The Hub+Spoke community club in particular will provide a lot for local cyclists as well as being a great place to socialise and share experiences," said Mr Curry. "I just hope it takes off."

There are plans for further improvements to Harlow's network of cycle paths later this year with the upgrading of the core cycle routes from the Katherines/Sumners and Stewards/Passmores areas in to the town centre.

The Cycle Harlow project was officially opened by Tracey Chapman, Essex County Council's cabinet member for highways and transportation, and council chairman Rodney Bass.

Cllr Chapman urged residents to make the most of the improved facilities.

"Some fantastic improvements have been made as part of the Cycle Harlow project and I am very pleased to see that this work will be continued by the new community club and hub," she said.

"Harlow has one of the best cycle networks in the county so there has never been a better time for residents to get out there and make the most of these facilities."

Town in running for national arts prize

SHORTLISTED:

HARLOW'S impressive collection of public sculpture has seen the town secure an unprecedented three places on the shortlist for a prestigious arts prize.

Two recently-unveiled works – Ekkehard Attenburger's imposing Sophrosyne and Nick Turvey's beguiling Methuselah – are both in the running for this year's Marsh Award, with Harlow itself securing the third nomination following its rebranding as the world's first 'sculpture town' last year.

The annual prize celebrates the very best work in public sculpture across the UK. Harlow's entries face stiff competition this year from sculpture in London, Cambridgeshire and South Wales.

Jenny Lushington, from The Friends Of Harlow Sculpture Collection, told the Star: "Both Sophrosyne and Methuselah fully deserve their place on the shortlist and to also have Harlow's entire collection recognised by a third nomination is really something special. "Winning the Marsh Award would be the icing on the cake for all the hard work that has gone into promoting Harlow's incredible collection of public sculpture. We'll probably never have a better chance than this year."

Joel Charles, Harlow Council's portfolio holder for community and citizenship, added: "Public sculptures have been prominent features in Harlow since the development of the new town and are an integral part of new neighbourhoods like Newhall.

"We have a fantastic sculpture collection in this town and it would be full deserved if we were to receive a Marsh Award."

REVIEW

To The Limit
Makin' Steps, Harlow Leisurezone

THERE was a buzz of anticipation as everyone in the magnificent Leisurezone sports hall settled down for Makin' Steps latest show ready to be entertained – and we certainly were.

Dancers performing a range of styles, live singers and a live band combined with superb staging, spectacular lighting and visual effects made for an exhilarating afternoon.

An impressive, X Factor-style video wall added to the impact of each routine, one of the most memorable of which saw the stage plunged into darkness and dancers clad in special suits highlighted using clever lighting effects.

It was a delight to see so much talent represented. There was such a wide age range of performers, from confident four-year-olds who never put a foot wrong through to sophisticated young adults, while talented performing arts students from Burnt Mill School also joined the varied programme.

One could not fail to be impressed by the sparkling choreography. The staging – in particular that of the closing number – would not have been out of place in the West End.

There were also some superb vocals by solo and groups performers. Congratulations to Makin' Steps head tutor Margaret Wright, her talented team and to everyone involved.

It's pandamonium as Po and pals are back in 3D

KUNG FU PANDA 2 (3D & 2D) certificate PG, 1h30m

PREPARE for the return of awesomeness in Jennifer Yuh Nelson's energetic martial arts comedy which kicks computer-animated butt and comes close to matching the rumbustious fun of the 2008 original.

Screenwriters Jonathan Aibel and Glenn Berger flashback to overweight panda Po's tortured past as the inspiration for this tale of identity and retribution, taking the story into far darker territory.

However, Jack Black's whirlwind vocal performance provides a generous smattering of belly laughs and the visuals are gorgeous and colourful, notably in the frenetic set pieces which punctuate the narrative. The introduction of the 3D format almost warrants the additional ticket price, adding depth to the gorgeous rolling landscapes of ancient China replete with bamboo forests and ornate palaces.

That said, younger audiences will get just as much fun from the traditional 2D version without the discomfort or distraction of the plastic spectacles.

Overweight panda Po (voiced by Black) is living his dream as an all-action bear, honing his skills under the watchful eye of mentor Shifu (Dustin Hoffman). However, he is haunted by fragmented memories which eventually reveal how his father came to be a goose called Mr Ping (James Wong).

It transpires that an evil peacock – Lord Shen (Gary Oldman) – is the cause of Po's deep emotional wounds.

Spurred on by a dire warning about pandas from an elderly soothsayer (Michelle Yeoh), Shen and his army of snarling wolves are on a collision course with Po, armed with a deadly weapon that could bring China to its knees.

Thankfully, Po can always rely on The Furious Five – Crane (David Cross), Mantis (Seth Rogen), Monkey (Jackie Chan), Tigress (Angelina Jolie) and Viper (Lucy Liu) – to avert disaster.

Kung Fu Panda 2 relies heavily on Black to unleash his verbal fireworks and to continue sparking potential romance with Jolie's kung fu kitty.

Hoffman's comic timing is impeccable and Oldman delivers his lines in suitably Machiavellian tones. The action sequences are bigger and more complex but still fall short of the intricacy of rival Pixar's most recent pictures.

Alas, the feelgood revelations at the end of Kung Fu Panda 2 suggest that as long as box office tills ring, there will be more chapters in Po's journey of self-discovery.

Having achieved inner peace in this instalment, expect Kung Fu Panda 3 to tackle global child obesity by having its rotund hero achieve outer peace through a crash diet.

SENNA certificate 12A, 1h46m

BRITISH director Asif Kapadia's documentary tells the extraordinary story of Ayrton Senna, considered by many to be the greatest Formula One driver of all time.

One of the few household names in the sport of motor racing, Brazilian hero Senna won the Formula One World Grand Prix three times.

His death at the age of 34 in a crash while leading the 1994 San Marino Grand Prix was seen live on TV by 300 million people.

This feature-length documentary traces Senna's incredible journey from go-kart racing in his native Brazil to the heady heights of the Formula One championships.

The film charts Senna's bitter, long-running rivalry with the French driver and reigning world champion Alain Prost which led to collisions on the track and accusations that safety was being compromised.

As Kapadia explores the politics of Formula One, we learn more about Senna himself: a humble and spiritual man who could also be a ruthless perfectionist.

● Harlow Cineworld will be staging four screenings of the film on Tuesday, June 21 at 2pm, 4.15pm, 6.30pm and 8.45pm.

The Hangover Part 2 Todd Phillips' sequel to the hit 2009 comedy sees the same characters finding themselves in a similar nightmare scenario. Dentist Stu Price (Ed Helms) is set to marry Lauren (Jamie Chung) in a traditional ceremony in Thailand. Best friends Phil Wenneck (Bradley Cooper), Doug Billings (Justin Bartha) and Alan Garner (Zach Galifianakis) are invited and while Doug makes an early exit, the others party at the resort with the bride-to-be's brother Teddy (Mason Lee). The next morning, Phil, Stu and Alan wake in a sleazy Bangkok hotel room with no recollection of the night before and no sign of Teddy. The trio scour the city to find him, crossing paths with shady businessman Kingsley (Paul Giamatti), flamboyant criminal Mr Chow (Ken Jeong) and a larcenous monkey along the way.

Diary Of A Wimpy Kid 2: Rodrick Rules Seventh grader Greg Heffley (Zachary Gordon) thinks all of his problems are solved now he has moved up a year at Westmore Middle School. Alas, insults in the corridor are nothing compared to the bullying he suffers at home from older brother Rodrick (Devon Bostick). Meanwhile, Greg tries to catch the eye of pretty classmate Holly Hills (Peyton List) while embarking on misadventures with long-suffering pal Rowley (Robert Capron) and classmates Fregley (Grayson Russell) and Chirag Gupta (Karan Brar).

The quest becomes infinitely more perilous when Jack is forced aboard the Queen Anne's Revenge captained by legendary pirate Blackbeard (Ian McShane), who is also seeking the Fountain with the help of his sexy daughter, Angelica (Penelope Cruz). Using all of his guile, Jack must somehow outwit Blackbeard and Angelica and reach the Fountain before his rivals. En route, he crosses paths with King George II (Richard Griffiths) and his father, Captain Teague (Keith Richards).

Your stars with
to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
Jupiter purrs into your money zone, and as this is the planet of fortune, things are set to look up, and the more endeavour you show, the better you'll do. With Saturn supporting Mercury, this can be a fine time for business partnerships - if you do your due diligence. Expect to be busy and on the go, in fact, life will be brimful with lively action. Call for your financial forecast in full...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
Good causes attract you, as you find yourself wanting to do your bit for society as a whole. This can see you agree to do a sponsored run, cycle ride or swim. Your long term financial prospects continue to look promising. Any job where you help others or those less fortunate can see you do well. Travel or higher education plans also firm up. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
Jupiter joins Venus and Mars in your sign, giving you genuine quality. This combination can open up so many possibilities for you over the next year, and it's all about having the confidence to be totally yourself. You can also be savvy moneyslave. In love, more than one person can show an interest in you, including someone very classy. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Do you believe in true love, that you can fall under the spell of someone at a very deep emotional level? Well, if so, and this is what you want, a rare alliance of planets can make it happen. You can also realize how valuable someone you know already really is. If so, this can put the spark back into a tie which had grown rather predictable. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Mercury is the planet which guides you most, and it has just returned home to your zodiac sign. This can see your mind fizzing with possibilities, and anything you do now has the chance of long lasting success, as you are unlikely to be rash in your moves. Yet there can still be a tendency to look backwards, especially about one person. Call your prediction line for more astral advice...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Futuristic ideas can capture your imagination. Journeying with friends to somewhere exotic or very peaceful will really appeal. Something you find out about the family can surprise and intrigue you, and this may relate to some old documents or an heirloom. Interest in psychic or paranormal subjects, can start to fascinate you, even more. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Friendships can prove to be lucky, and one person can give you some really excellent advice or put in a good word for you, possibly on a job. If you are looking to push on with major goals, the arrival of Jupiter can be of sensational help. Be confident and be bold. An older friend can prove to be particularly influential for you just now Leo. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
You can have a knack for balancing risk-taking with common sense. If this sounds like a paradox, go with it, because sometimes we have to speculate to accumulate and you can do so without being too cavalier. Good news in the family can lift you. An improvement to where you live or a complete home move can occur in the next year. Call your prediction line for more advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
Someone hard to figure out can have an amazing impact on you. You may never fully suss out their motivations but there is something about them that keeps drawing you back. The time has come to challenge yourself both in love and professionally. If you do, you'll never look back. A chance to learn new skills or attend a course can be pivotal. Call for your love scope in full...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
Jupiter and Neptune, your ruling planets, forge a stunning link. This is brilliant if you enjoy playing or listening to music, or love photography or writing. A new release on DVD of a film, or going to the movies can truly captivate your imagination. Have you ever thought about working from home? New technology can be the clue of how. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

LUXURY bathroom, stylish kitchen, state-of-the-art en suite. How many times have you been attracted to an estate agent's property details on the back of promises such as these?

It's no secret that kitchens and bathrooms sell houses and if you're thinking of selling it's a good idea to concentrate on these rooms. Make sure they are looking their best before you open your door to prospective buyers.

It goes without saying that they should be spotlessly clean and tidy. Even if your bathroom suite is old, clean tiles (grout pens are available from most DIY stores) and walls, as well as bright towels and accessories can often camouflage a dated room.

If your suite really is past its best, installing a modern, white bathroom suite can be cheaper and easier than you think. You also might want to consider taking out bathroom carpet and replacing it with easy-clean flooring.

If the kitchen is large and in need of some attention, most buyers will mentally add several thousand pounds to the amount they believe needs spending on your property.

Changing doors and worktops can be a quick and relatively inexpensive way of refreshing old units provided the cabinets are sound. Giving a tired kitchen a facelift always pays off, but be careful – as long as your buyers can move in and use the kitchen from day one a cosmetic touch-up is all that's necessary. There's no need to spend a small fortune to fit something brand new that in all likelihood will be changed in the near future.

If in doubt, ask the people you have employed to help you sell your home – your estate agent. They should be able to give you sound advice when it comes to helping you decide whether or not it will be worth investing a little to achieve a satisfactory sale.

Local Property Comment

Alan Howick
01279 401902

We are so busy, my retirement has gone out the window!

Last year, after many years of caution we decided to 'dip our toe' into the rental market and launch a new agency known as H&B Lettings. Hopefully you have seen the adverts. Well, it's been a tremendous success - Inside four months we took on more staff to look after a growing list of clients and now, just over a year later, we have had to move into bigger premises in Gothic House to accommodate the growing sales team!

Whatever you may think of the housing market, rentals as well as sales are on the up. Just when I was contemplating easing off towards retirement, I'm getting busy again!

Small car with big credentials

By Matt Joy

It may sound like something of an insult, but actually it is a praiseworthy statement to say that Vauxhall's Corsa has virtually become a piece of street furniture.

Learners learn to drive in them, newly-qualified drivers then go out and buy them, as do small families, pensioners and youngsters. It is a car with universal appeal which is why you see so many of the little blighters.

But it would be naïve to live off its reputation and so, understandably, Vauxhall has taken the Corsa in for a little spruce up to keep it at the top of its game. Last year saw the suspension set up benefit from detail changes, whereas this 2011 model now has a series of design and specification enhancements for further grin inducement.

Although the Corsa is one of the most familiar shapes on the UK's roads, it is easy to spot the latest version thanks to the broad grin of the new grille. Just like those on larger models in the Vauxhall range, it has a wide band of chrome, flanked on either side by the

FACTfile

Vauxhall
Corsa SRi 1.7
CDTi Ecoflex

£17,650

Engine: 1.7-litre diesel unit delivering 128bhp
Transmission: Six-speed manual gearbox driving the front wheels
Performance: Top speed 124mph / 0-62mph in 8.9 secs
Economy: 62.8mpg
CO<sub>2</sub> Rating: 118g/km new headlights which included daytime running lights.

There's a new bumper at the front, too, while the rest of the car can be enhanced with a wide choice of colours and increase wheel options, including some particularly attractive 17-inchers finished in black.

If you're already a fan of its looks the changes will help, while the undecided won't deny it looks modern and fresh. Climb inside and you are greeted by one of the best cabins in the supermini class. It feels sturdy and looks surprisingly expensive given the modest price tag.

New for 2011 are the seat trim options, both of which add colour and avoid the default shades of grey approach. You can add colour elsewhere, too: the door trims, centre console, air vents and door handles can all be colour-coded.

You'll need to exercise restraint and apply some taste, but sitting in the colour-splashes cabin makes a refreshing change.

Another important change is the new Touch and Connect multimedia system, which brings sat-nav, Bluetooth connectivity and multi-input audio playback in one simple system. There's a clear colour screen up the top and it's good value, too.

Another big-car option is the heated steering wheel which may sound like an irrelevance, but first thing on a frosty morning it's the next best thing to still being in bed.

With no changes under the skin this time around, you can take it as read that the Corsa drives well and makes life easy for the driver. This top-specification 1.7-litre diesel offers up strong torque from 2,000rpm which helps make life easy in town traffic as well as more than brisk acceleration if you're in a hurry.

It's also pretty refined and avoids become too noisy at the higher end of the rev range. Perhaps of greater importance is the efficiency figures: 62.8mpg combined is excellent, while the CO<sub>2</sub> emissions of 118g/km are very good indeed for a car that can also sprint to 60mph from rest in 8.9 seconds. Put in those terms, the Corsa has all the bases covered.

Drive along any mix of typical British lanes – lumpy urban streets, patchy motorways and undulating B-roads – and the Corsa comfortably deals with them all.

Although there are newer rivals to contend with, it filters out road imperfections without coming over all jelly-like through a tricky bend.

Modern small cars get used for much more than just the high street run, so the Corsa's ability to be a jack-of-all-traders will satisfy the great majority of buyers. One or two rivals may be a little more fun to drive, but if it's fun you're after the hot VXR will take care of that.

This range-topping high-spec SRi is packed with kit, style and performance but the same positive attributes are just as abundant in the very inexpensive sub-£10,000 entry model.

There may have only been modest changes made over last year's model, but that's mostly due to the fact it was doing a fine job in the first place.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Canaan closes in on UK No.1 spot

athletics

CANAAN Solomon moved to number two in the U-13 UK rankings after a sizzling time of 4 minutes and 38 seconds in the 1,500m.

He was one of six Harlow school students to register personal bests (PBs) in the 1,500m at an open meeting in Watford.

Mark Hall School student Canaan (12) was in 3rd place in the race and was beaten by an U-17 runner and an U-15 boy.

His time puts him top of the Eastern Region U-13 boys 1,500m rankings.

Three PBs came from Burnt Mill pupils: Rian Mcknight (13) clocked 5:15 (1st) in the U-15 boys; Amelia Barrett (14) ran 4:57 (6th) and now ranks 5th in the Eastern Region and 62nd in the UK U-15 girls; Perry Rowan (14) registered 4:22 (1st) and is 4th in the Eastern Region and 25th in the UK U-15 boys.

Passmores School pupil Isobel Moss (15), completed the U-17 girls 1,500m in 5:20 (7th).

Daniel Yaxley (18), a Harlow College student, clocked 4:05 (3rd).

He is 7th in the Eastern Region U-20 men rankings.

Three Harlow AC members performed well in an U-11s open meeting at Watford.

Lauren Barker (9) ran a brilliant race to win the girls 600m in a PB of 2:09, while Katie Woodstock (9) grabbed second spot in 2:12 (PB).

Earlier, Katie was second in the 80m sprint with a PB of 12.4s, while Rebecca Lott (9) also clocked a PB of 12.7s in this race. Rebecca was fourth overall.

Markus Hunt claimed a podium spot when he came third in the 400m at a British Athletics League meeting.

The Harlow-based athlete clocked 48.09 secs when he represented Southend AC in Saturday's event at Exeter.

Kirsty McIntosh, also from Harlow, came second in the women's pole vault (3.40m) when she represented Woodford Green with Essex Ladies AC in a British Women's Athletic League premier division meeting at Manchester on Saturday.

Alex Hill, from Old Harlow, made her UK Women's League debut for Herts Phoenix AC in a division two match at Cophall Stadium in North London.

She was part of the winning 4x400m relay team in which she ran a good second leg.

Alex also came third in the B string 400m.

Previously, Alex won the U-20 women's 400m in 59.4s when competing for Herts Phoenix AC at a National Junior League meeting in Watford.

She was also part of the winning 4x400m relay team.

SUCCESS: From top, Canaan Solomon (HSP0737334); Amelia Barrett (HSP0737322); and Daniel Yaxley (HSP0737332)

Bauer success moves him up UK rankings

DAVE Bauer won two events and claimed a season best in an Eastern Veterans League match.

The Harlow-based athlete, right, threw a season best of 37.86m to win the discus event at the Lee Valley Athletic Centre in Edmonton, North London.

This placed him fifth in the UK rankings in the men's over 45 category.

Bauer, who was representing Chelmsford AC, also competed in the javelin for the first time in many years, throwing 30.49m from a standing throw for another first place.

Forget Arnie, HAC have the Paxmanators

THE Paxman twins showed some Schwarzenegger style steel to ensure a weakened Harlow Athletic Club side terminated their rivals' chances to win the Southern Men's League division two north meeting at the weekend.

Harlow came first out of four clubs with 123 points after some superb performances from the brothers – now dubbed the Paxmanators.

Harlow finished ahead of second-placed Barnet on 103.5, Queens Park Harriers (67.5) and London AC (10) in Saturday's event at Newham, East London.

Jared Bethell (calf injury) and Mark Harris (viral infection) were ruled out as Harlow were reduced to an eight-man team.

Carl and Glen Paxman did their best to plug the gaps, competing in a lung-busting 25 events.

This resulted in 17 individual first places for the twins, plenty of personal bests (PBs) and a first in the 4x100m relay when they combined with Jack Reed and veteran athlete Ian Smith.

Four individual second places were also achieved by the twins along with second spot in the 4x400m relay.

Carl made a winning debut in the B-string 110m hurdles (22.6 seconds PB), B 400m hurdles (2nd 84.8s PB) and B 3,000m steeplechase (2nd B 14 mins 02.7s PB).

He was ably assisted by Glen (A 110m hurdles 1st, 21.6s; A 400m hurdles 1st, 68.2s; A 3,000m steeplechase 2nd, 13.22.2).

In the pole vault, Glen was 2nd in the A event (2.00m) despite suffering an injury to a hand and arm in training. Carl was 1st in the B (1.10m).

Other results for Glen in the A events were: long jump 1st 5.92m; high jump 2nd 1.40m; javelin 1st 38.90m; triple jump 1st 11.95m; 400m 1st 54.4s; 100m 1st 11.2s; 200m 1st 23.7s.

Other B results for Carl were: long jump 1st 5.50m; high jump 1st 1.40m; javelin 1st 35.15m; triple jump 1st 11.02m; 400m 1st 58.6s.

Senior team debutant Reed (U-17) came first in the B 100m (12.1s) and B 200m (24.3s).

Dave Bauer (A string) and Chris Clark (B string) secured first places in the hammer (32.22m and 20.29m) and discus (34.16m and 20.98m).

SIBLING THRIVE-ARLY: Carl Paxman in action at Mark Hall Sportcentre (HSP0737318). Inset, Glen Paxman

In the shot put, Bauer and Glen Paxman respectively achieved 2nd in the A String (9.95m) and first in the B string 9.84m.

Tim Marshall was 3rd in the A 800m (2:37.9) and Steve Lott was 2nd in the B 800m (2:42.4).

In the 1,500m, Lott was third in the 3rd (5:48.6, and Marshall clocked 5:56.5).

Lott finished third in the A 5,000m (25:01.6).

Smith completed the non-scoring 100m in a time of 12.0s.

Harlow clocked 47.2s in the 4x100m for first spot and 3:55.1 in the 4x400m to win by 19.5 points.

The victory put Harlow third in the league table.

Team manager Catherine Bauer said: "It was a really excellent result for Harlow in a difficult match due to depleted numbers and very hot conditions.

"Glen and Carl continue to astonish me with their energy and desire for the team to succeed. Carl even managed to run faster in the 4x400 relay than he did in his individual race – after running the steeplechase!

"It's especially good to see younger team members starting to turn out for the senior team, giving them valuable experience at a higher level."

Girls give rugby a go!

FIFTEEN girls had a go at the oval ball game when Harlow Rugby Club's women's section ran a taster session on Sunday.

It was rounded off with games of six-a-side tag rugby.

Harlow Ladies skipper Tracey Lee said: "It was a great success. Some of them showed very good ball handling skills."

Girls can attend Monday evening training sessions at Harlow (7pm), even if they did not attend last Sunday's session.

203-6

Harlow Tn won by 8 runs

Herts & Essex Cricket
League, division one

POLE position was maintained as leaders Harlow Town ground out a narrow home victory over Ilford Catholics in division one of the Herts and Essex League.

Town battled first on Saturday and Pat Yates led the way with an unbeaten 78.

Ramya Upadhyay also hit 32 and Ashley Alderson chipped in with 33 as Town staged a late rally to set Ilford 212 to win.

A late quickfire 24, including two huge sixes came from Darryl Pettengell, who also broke his bat in the process!

For Ilford, Ed Tooth got off to a good start scoring a rapid 36, but Town reined them back in thanks to three wickets from experienced seam bowler Dan Calver. Town looked in control mid-innings but Ilford pushed for the win, needing 21 to win off the last two overs.

HOLD FIRE: Pat Yates, right, tells a team-mate not to run on his way to an unbeaten 78 against Ilford Catholics in Saturday's crunch division one match (HSP0741924)

Town held their nerve, however, and Charlie Coleman picked up two crucial wickets to clinch victory for the home side.

First team player Scott Alderson said:

"It was not our strongest performance of the season but we ground out a win.

"To win when not performing at our best is a good sign, however and we hope to improve when we visit Newport next Saturday."

In division two, Harlow Town II (164-

2) beat Thorley (163) by eight wickets.

They reached the target in just 21 overs thanks to a swift 67 from Karl Seecharan and a good knock from Jack Elston (52 not out).

Harlow Town III (161-2; Ashley Norcott 42, Bobby Blunt 35, John Simpson 31) overcame

Farnham II (160-4) by eight wickets in division five.

In division seven, Harlow Town IV (211-9; Dan Dewry 44 not out) lost by six runs against Epping Foresters II (217-8).

In division three, Potter Street (226-9) lost to Roding Valley (294-6) by 68 runs.

Bowls player in England call-up

By ALAN SCOTT
alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

BOWLS player Steve Mitchinson is celebrating after being selected to represent England in the British Isles Series in Edinburgh on July 2-3.

The Harlow bowls player – who won the Jolliman English Singles Championship last August – was chosen after a one-day trial consisting of two matches of 15 ends.

The British Isles Series is played every year between England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

It consists of six rinks with up to 24 players taking part.

Mitchinson, who lives in Challinors, admitted he thought he might not be picked after failing to win his trial matches.

"Unfortunately I lost both matches by one shot and two shots respectively, but you are marked on how you performed so obviously I scored enough marks to get selected."

He added: "In terms of bowls there is nothing really

MOVING UP: Steve Mitchinson, seen here with the English Singles title he won at Worthing last year, has been called up to represent England in the British Isles Series (Pic: Steve Weernes) higher [than international matches] apart from the Commonwealth Games. It's huge really."

Mitchinson, who plays for Tye Green Indoor Bowls Club in Harlow and Romford, will also be representing England in the British Isles Championships which start on Thursday June 30.

The British Isles Championships also includes Jersey and Guernsey and Mitchinson will face the winner of the Scotland and Wales match in the semi-final.

He received a bye to the last four.

He qualified for this tournament through winning the English Singles title.

Mitchinson hopes to defend his English singles title in August at Worthing.

To defend his title he must win the Essex Singles title. He is already through to the third round in this year's competition.

Mitchinson represented Essex at the weekend, joining Gary Hurley, from Harlow Bowls Club, in a rink of four.

Essex beat Norfolk 17-5 in the Middleton Cup.

He beat Sussex's Scott Edwards 20-8 in last year's thrilling English Singles final on the South Coast.

He was watched by his wife Angela and then 10-month-old son Hayden.

Mitchinson had beaten England international Neil Hope in the last 16 on his march to victory.

He said then he hoped to make an impact on the international scene and break through to the England ranks.

So his call-up completes another remarkable chapter in the sportsman's career as he continues to make a name for himself in the bowls world.

The match was played indoors and was marked by humid conditions.

Other results: Harlow's third pair Dave Corbyn and Harry Meluish drew 6-3, 2-6 with Chigwell's 1st pair; drew 7-6, 3-6 with Chigwell's 2nd pair; and beat Chigwell's 3rd pair 6-3, 6-4.

SIGN UP: BBC TV presenter Gabby Logan, centre, at Katherine's School in Harlow (s)

Gabby urges Harlow schools to sign up for Sport Week!

FINAL Score presenter Gabby Logan called on schools in Harlow to sign up for next month's Lloyds TSB National School Sport Week when she visited Katherine's Primary School.

Last year more than 14,000 schools across Britain signed up to the week-long national initiative, with five million children taking part in a host of activities that included staging an opening ceremony to athletics, tennis, football and even a parents' mile.

Katherine's is already signed up for this year's event and Logan has urged other Harlow schools to follow suit.

The mum-of-two, who is the ambassador for Lloyds TSB National School Sports week that will run from June 27 through to July 1, said: "It's a great scheme. It's not necessarily about children becoming Olympic athletes, but just getting healthier and enjoying themselves."

"Sport is a great British pastime and you can have a good time with mates, as well as doing it competitively."

Logan's sporting pedigree is an inspiration to children. She represented Wales as a gymnast in the 1990 Commonwealth Games in Auckland.

She is married to former Scotland rugby player Kenny Logan, while her father Terry Yorath, 61, is a former Wales footballer and manager.

Participating schools in this year's event could win the chance to carry the Olympic torch or win tickets to London 2012 - and Logan more than approves.

"It's about helping people to get involved in sport and perhaps try one of the Olympic or Paralympic sports and maybe try to set new personal bests and enjoy sport," she said.

"There are opportunities to win tickets when you sign up and equipment for schools so it is a great event."

Fighter seals silver at Southern Champs

taekwondo

TAEKWONDO fighter John Smallbone followed up his success at the Ghurkha International Championships with a silver medal at the Southern Championships in Bournemouth, Dorset.

The Harlow player lost by just two points to the current British and European champion Luke Holman in the middleweight final.

Smallbone also fought in the heavyweight category, two weights above.

Smallbone also reached the final but was forced to retire during the bout due to a knee injury, finishing with a second silver medal.

Smallbone is the instructor at the Hadri Taekwondo Academy based at Burnt Mill School in Harlow.

He is now training and focusing on competing in the British Championships on June 18-19 in Manchester.

He took one his new students, 7-year-old Ben Ryley, also from Harlow, to the competition in Bournemouth.

Ben was competing in his very first competition.

He has been training at the club for three months, since it opened, and has shown a natural flair for sparring.

Duo recruited by Hawks boss while defender arrives on trial

By DAVID RIMMER
david.rimmer@hertssexnews.co.uk

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman has swooped for Ware midfielder Max Mitchell and keeper Elliott Justham from Redbridge.

In addition to these two signings, former Bishop's Stortford and Maidenhead United centre-half Grant Cooper will be among several players on trial at Barrows Farm when pre-season training starts on June 30.

Mitchell (21) and Justham both impressed when playing for their respective clubs against Harlow Town in Ryman League division one north last season.

Ex-Maldon & Tiptree United keeper Anthony Tucker had been a possible signing, but Chapman said Justham was the one he wanted and he will start as the number one keeper.

This puts the place of current No.1 James Hasell under threat. He is going away for two weeks in September and will have to fight hard to win back his place - as he did last season when Rhys Madden took the goalie's shirt.

Chapman said: "Elliott will be our number one. He played well against us and can kick with both feet and also played well when Kevin Warren went to see him in two or three other games.

"The goalkeeper position is very important and we do not want any disruption. James Hasell understands the situation and it will be up to him to work his way back when he comes back in September."

ON TRIAL: Grant Cooper

Mitchell, meanwhile, can also play in defence but is more of an attacking midfielder and a real threat from set-pieces.

Chapman said: "He had offers from Wingate and Finchley and Cambridge City but he wanted to join Harlow.

"He did well against us last season and he has an excellent technique. He can play behind the front two or out wide."

He added: "The fact that he scored 14 goals in a struggling side [at Ware] says something.

"Other teams at the top scored more goals than us last season and he will help us with the goals."

Centre-half Laurie Stewart has quit Harlow to join Zamaretto League premier division club Hitchin Town.

Chapman said: "Laurie wanted to play a higher level of football and challenge himself.

"There were no hard feelings and I want to thank him for all he has done for us."

Cooper may be a possible replacement, but he faces a battle to replace Lee Gledhill and skipper Leo Roget, who impressed together at the tail end of the season as Hawks secured a play-off spot.

Chapman has not seen much of Cooper and said: "Christian Wheeler [Harlow's assistant manager] knows him very well. He's a good, physical centre-half - and a clever one."

Strikers Rhys Henry and James Bunn will also be on trial in the pre-season period.

"Rhys was here when Ryan Kirby was manager when he came [on loan] from Southend. He was at Needham Market last year and we will have a look at him," said Chapman.

"As a hold-up player, James Bunn is exceptional and we will have to look at him [and his fitness level]."

Chapman had hoped to sign Brentwood midfielder Ross Parmenter, but he has gone to Histon.

"They are in the Blue Square Bet North so I have no problems with that," said the Hawks boss.

Thrilling fifth win opens up gap at the top

AN excellent run chase from Harlow at Leigh-on-Sea maintained the Marigolds men's proud unbeaten run - and kept them in top spot in division two.

Harlow have won all five league games and go into this Saturday's home game against Horndon-on-the-Hill 15 points ahead of second-placed Walthamstow.

The two sides head been level on points going into last weekend's matches, but Walthamstow suffered a surprise 8-run defeat against Stanford-le-Hope.

Harlow skipper Luke Heskett said: "It's been a dream start. We start the timed games against Horndon and we will need to perform well to beat them.

"If we field second we have to bowl them out to win, not just restrict them to a score below ours, as in an overs [rather than a timed] game."

After losing the toss, Harlow fielded first and Leigh were restricted to just 45 runs in the first 15 overs. Andrew McGarry and Luke Monger both bowled well, with the former having particularly good figures of 1-18 from 10 overs.

The visitors kept a grip on Leigh for the majority of the innings with Haris Afridi taking 3-51.

However, West Indian overseas player Ian Byron changed the tempo of the innings when he came in at number seven.

He hit 57 from just 40 balls and combined well with Billy King (24 from 29 balls) and Sean Elliott (24 from just nine balls) to take Leigh to an impressive 270-8 from their 50 overs. Heskett took two late wickets to finish with 3-54.

Harlow were also careless in conceding 47 extras, but this profligacy was more than reciprocated when the visitors batted - and the hosts conceded 62 extras.

In reply, Harlow were given a superb start by openers Rehman Ahmed and Monger.

They coped excellently with the pace of Byron as they added 82 before Monger was run out for 27.

This brought Ahmed Khawaja to the crease and he shared an excellent stand 142 with Ahmed.

Khawaja went for 67 and Ahmed was accounted for by Byron for 88. Nino Calvino, Conor Ramsay and Heskett all fell for ducks as Harlow wobbled, but Afridi (17 not out) and Matt Nobes (10 not out) guided the side home with five overs to spare.

Heskett added: "The bowlers did well to keep a good Leigh batting line-up to 270 and the partnership between Rehman and Ahmed [Khawaja] was one of the best I have witnessed at the club - they both batted brilliantly."

Bowler Nicky Baxter returns for the Horndon game and Heskett added: "He will add an extra dimension to the bowling attack with his left-arm seamers."
